

WANTED

Experts of All Kinds

Boise Schools Volunteer Services Programs and its Resource Network are looking for individuals with expertise, talents, and some extra time to enhance classroom curriculum.

The Boise Schools Volunteer Resource Network provides District staff information on curriculum content topics, how to access community resources, or offers suggestions to help classroom speakers.

Members of the community willing to share their expertise in curriculum topics such as math, history, literature, the arts, language, science, sports, or other educational topics are encouraged to apply. To be considered, fill out this form and send it to:
